RETIREMENT

Workshop

Taking the First Step: Preparing for life after work

WHEN

August 13th, 2022

INFO

Some people have a clear idea of what they want to do in "retirement" and how they will get there. Others don't.

This seminar is a unique event tailored to the medical profession in that second group.

The workshop will provide expert advice as well as offering insight from a range of professionals who have lived experience of having taken the first steps out of all-consuming full-time work and into the surprising and satisfying next stages of their lives.
